

Contemporary Literature's singular place within the kaleidoscope of literary and criticism journals is summed up by its editorial policy

pluralistic

eclectic

flexible

—emphasizing criticism, review and research in the new developments and trends within the literature of the West.

CONTEMPORARY LITERATURE

Contemporary Literature surveys recent novels and contemporary poetry and publishes comprehensive interviews, book reviews and in-depth analyses. Frequently, an entire issue is devoted to the writings of one author, one country or within one trend.

Interviews

Kobo Abé, Kingsley Amis, James Dickey, Stanley Elkin, Alain Robbe-Grillet, Edward Dorn, Stanley Kunitz, Margaret Drabble, Celia Bertin, Paul Blackburn, Jorge Luis Borges, Nathalie Sarraute

Articles

D. H. Lawrence, W. S. Merwin, Yves Bonnefoy, William Gaddis, John A. Williams, Virginia Woolf, Saul Bellow, Wallace Stevens, William Carlos Williams, Eliot, Pound, Grass, Camus, Nin, Sartre

Literary Criticism & Review

New Erotic Poetry, Modern Novel, Critical Theory, Recent British Fiction, Modern Drama, American Poetry

Special Issues

(Forthcoming) Literary Criticism

(Previously published) Doris Lessing, Vladimir Nabokov, H.D., Modern British Poetry, French Literature in the Sixties, Three Swedish Writers (including Eyvind Johnson)*

*also available in book form for classroom and seminar use

Subscribe Today

(or recommend a subscription for your library or department)

Founded in 1960, a quarterly publication (1975: Volume 16)

Editor: L.S. Dembo

Subscription rates: Institutions, $20/year (4 numbers); Individuals only, must prepay, $10/year (4 numbers)

Send subscriptions to:

Journals Department A

University of Wisconsin Press

P. O. Box 1379

Madison, Wisconsin 53701

The Northeast Victorian Studies Association announces its intention to sponsor a bulletin serving as a clearinghouse of information for people interested in Victorian Britain. We hope that it will act as an international, in-house organ keeping Victorianists informed of the goings-on of various groups: noting exhibitions, conferences, publications, and research-in-progress; registering notes, queries, desiderata; and recording the movements of significant scholars (job-changes, visits, exchanges). Its format will be interdisciplinary, covering such fields as literature, history, art, economics, medicine, architecture, science, religion, psychology, law and photography. As a bulletin, it should appear as frequently and as cheaply as possible. Intended to fill a perceived gap, it will not compete with any existing publication.

Our mailing address is: Lynne F. Sacher, Editor Victorian Studies Bulletin, Baruch College, City University of New York, 17 Lexington Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10010.