
A Note from the Organizing Committee

The Bachelor of Health Sciences program held its annual research symposium on October 4th, 2012 to celebrate and showcase outstanding undergraduate research. The BHS Research Symposium highlighted research that students in the Bachelor of Health Sciences program had conducted and involved 6 oral presentations as well as 40 poster presentations, plus a keynote lecture from one of our esteemed clinical researchers, Dr. Fiona Costello.

The event is primarily student run with support from the faculty and was well attended by the student body and many revered faculty members. We also had the pleasure of hearing from the Dean of Medicine, Dr. Jon Meddings, and the Associate Dean of Undergraduate Science Education, Dr. Tony Schryvers.

We would like to extend our sincerest gratitude to those who supported this event; the UofC Students Union, Charlotte Breakey and the endMS Network, Les Nicholson and the Faculty of Medicine Bookstore, and Leigh Hurst and the Faculty of Medicine Alumni Relations. We would also like to thank all of the members of the Health Sciences Students Association who donated their time, and to Jennifer Logan and all of the BHS office staff who have spent countless hours ensuring the events success. Thank you!

Thank you all again for your continued support of and participation in this wonderful event! It is always so exciting to see the variety of amazing research projects that our fellow students are undertaking. See you all next year!

Sincerely,

Nikytha Antony, Amrita Bhattacharjee, Patrick Ciechanski, & Jackie Williamson
Health Sciences Student Association and the Student-Faculty Liaison Committee (Medicine)