EDITORIAL

It was a beautiful June day in Charlottetown and the decision was swift. The Board of Directors of the Canadian Guidance and Counselling Association elected Acting Editor, Dr. Rey A. Carr, as the new Editor of the Canadian Journal of Counselling. The Board expressed considerable appreciation and regard for the exceptional achievements of the retiring Editor, Dr. Vance Peavy.

Dr. Max Uhlemann has agreed to take on the responsibility of Associate Editor. Dr. Uhlemann has considerable experience as author, reviewer and consulting editor. He is specifically interested in creating a practitioner's section and would like to receive manuscripts from counsellors in the field.

Françoise Roux will replace Judith Koltai as Managing Editor. Françoise is fluently bilingual and is completing her Master's degree in counselling at the University of Victoria. Jane Seyd and Cheryl-Lynn Aman continue as Editorial Assistants.

Each year we receive more manuscripts worthy of publication. Often we do not have space to publish them in our Journal and we encourage authors to seek other outlets for their work. Included with this editorial is a listing of local, provincial and national publications in Canada concerned with counselling (see Table 1). We would like to update and revise this list each year. If you know of other publications, please let us know.

Une belle journée de juin à Charlottetown. Le Conseil des Directeurs de la Société Canadienne d'Orientation et de Consultation a vite fait de prendre une décision. Le rédacteur par intérim, Dr. Rey A. Carr, a été élu rédacteur en chef de la Revue Canadienne de Counseling. Il va sans dire que le travail du Dr. Vance Peavy fut grandement apprécié, loué par les membres du Conseil.

De son côté, Dr. Max Uhlemann a accepté le rôle de rédacteur adjoint. Dr. Uhlemann détient plusieurs années d'expérience comme auteur, critique, et aviseur à la rédaction. Dans le cadre du journal, il concentrera ses efforts au développement d'une section pour les praticiens. Par conséquent, il aimerait recevoir des manuscrits de conseillers en pratique.

Françoise Roux remplacera Judith Koltai comme coordonnatrice à la rédaction. Françoise est bilingue et est à compléter sa maîtrise en counseling, à l'Université de Victoria. Jane Seyd et Cheryl-Lynn Aman poursuivent comme rédactrices auxiliaires.

A chaque année nous recevons des manuscrits qui méritent d'être publiés. Toutefois, nous n'avons pas toujours l'espace nécessaire pour les publier dans notre journal et nous encourageons les auteurs à explorer d'autres avenues pour la publication de leur manuscrit. Nous avons donc décidé d'inclure, dans cette édition, une liste des publications locales, provinciales, et nationales au Canada qui s'intéressent au counseling (voir Table 1). Nous aimerions mettre à jour et réviser cette liste à chaque année. Si vous connaissez d'autres publications, veuillez nous communiquer l'information.
